Support for families with children

Information for people with or affected by motor neurone disease or Kennedy's disease

If you are living with or affected by MND, you may also be the parent or guardian of school age children or young people. In this situation, you may be able to get help or financial support.

This information sheet explains the different types of support that may be available, and is split into the following sections:

- 1. How do we get our family needs assessed?
  - 2. Can I get free meals or milk for my child?
  - 3. Is there help with school uniform costs?
  - 4. Can I get help to transport my child to school and back?
  - 5. What other support is there at school?
  - 6. What other benefits can I claim?
  - 7. How can I find out more?

This symbol is used to highlight our other publications. To find out how to access these, see Further information at the end of this sheet.

This symbol is used to highlight quotes from other people with or affected by MND.

This information has been evidenced, user tested and reviewed by experts.

What do the words mean?

When reading this information, you may come across the following terms:

Bursary:	a type of grant awarded to someone to enable them to study, for example at university or college.
Development milestones:	behaviours or skills that develop at certain ages in infants and children as they grow.
Discretionary:	the decision maker can choose how to apply rules to an assesment or award, based on a person's situation or needs.
Emotional strength or resilience:	a person's internal coping abilities to adapt to stressful situations and bounce back.
Grant:	an amount of money given by an organisation to support the purchase of a particular item or activity. Grants do not always need to be paid back.
Means tested:	this is where your income and savings are taken into account to work out the level of benefit you may receive. This only applies to some claims.
Scheme:	a plan or arrangement that schools can get involved in. This can be by choice or in some cases schools may be required by Government to take part.
Working tax credit 4-week run on:	the payment you may receive for a further four weeks after you stop qualifying for working tax credit.

For details about financial support, see:
Information sheet 10A – Benefits and entitlements

Can I get any advice on benefits?

The Benefits Advice Service provides free, confidential and impartial advice on welfare benefits by phone and email for people living in England, Wales and Northern Ireland. There is also a webchat function for people in England and Wales.

Find current contact details for England, Wales and Northern Ireland at:

www.mndassociation.org/benefitsadvice

or contact our MND Connect helpline for guidance: 0808 802 6262

1: How do we get our family needs assessed?

If someone in your family is living with MND or Kennedy's disease, adult social care services can assess your needs.

You can ask for two types of assessment that could help support the younger members of your family: an early help assessment and a young carer's needs assessment. We will cover these in the next section.

If you are a disabled parent and feel you need some help providing care for your children, adult social care services have a duty to support you too.

There are two other assessments that may help you as an individual. If you have MND or Kennedy's disease and need help with daily living tasks, ask for a needs assessment. (or in Northern Ireland, a community care assessment). If you care for someone with MND or Kennedy's disease, ask for a carer's assessment.

For information about all types of needs assessment and your rights to support, see: Information sheet 10B - What is social care?

For more information about individual benefits that may be available to you, see: Information sheet 10A Benefits and entitlements.

Early help assessment

What is it?

It is a way of gathering information to identify current and future needs. It can help families think about the sort of support they may find helpful now and later on as MND progresses. It gives social care services a chance to discuss financial or practical support with you, that may be available for your family.

The assessment is for the needs of the whole family and for each child or young person in the family unit. It may help you and your family access the right support when you need it. Young people in the family may want to discuss their needs separately with a social worker and provide their own information.

Assessment may lead to support that helps a child or young person to:

- reach their development milestones
- build emotional strength
- better cope with existing and future challenges.

Assessment should also identify:

- children and young people who may become a carer for an adult or a brother or sister
- disabled parents who may need support to care for their child now or in the future.

Do I qualify?

If you have children living at home, and need help due to additional needs within the family, you have the right to request an early help assessment.

How do I apply?

To arrange an assessment, ask your local authority in England or Wales, or your local health and social care trust in Northern Ireland.

Young carer's needs assessment

What is it?

An assessment for children or young people who provide care, or support an adult or another child in their family. It may provide early access to support and services to help your child.

It may include support from:

- a young carer's organisation for respite breaks or to attend a young carer's group
- a school nurse or pastoral support for health and wellbeing
- pupil premium for support to access help with learning (see section 5: What other support is there in school)
- talking or counselling services.

It may help you plan for emergencies and what to do if:

- your child becomes unwell and you cannot collect them from school
- you become unwell and need support to pick your child up from school.

Does my child qualify?

Your child may qualify if they help you or someone else with:

- practical jobs like cooking, shopping or housework
- personal care like washing or dressing
- physical care like helping a person walk or move around
- emotional support like talking to a person if they are upset
- giving medicine or collecting prescriptions
- communication if a person has no speech or needs help with translation
- caring for brothers and sisters.

"I'd go in and help with his catheter or anything else I could do, like helping him to eat or take medicines."

How do I apply?

To arrange an assessment, ask your local authority in England or Wales, or your local health and social care trust in Northern Ireland. You can ask for support to apply for a young carer's needs assessment or more information from your local young carer's group. Find details about local support groups for young carers at:

www.carers.org.uk or www.carersuk.org

2: Can I get free meals or milk for my child?

If your family is on a low income and you receive certain benefits, you may be able to get support through schemes that provide:

- Healthy Start vouchers
- free school meals
- school milk.

Healthy Start vouchers

What is it?

Healthy Start is a UK-wide government voucher scheme. You can apply if you are pregnant or have children under 4 years old and have a low family income. You can swap your vouchers for fresh or frozen fruit and vegetables, fresh milk or infant formula milk. It is means tested.

Vouchers are sent by post and can be used in certain shops. You will be sent information about which shops accept the vouchers. You may get extra vouchers if you have children aged under one.

You may also receive vitamin coupons that can be swapped for free vitamins if you are pregnant or have children aged six months to four years old.

Do I qualify?

You need to be at least 10 weeks pregnant or have children under four and receive one of the following benefits:

- Income Support
- income-based Jobseeker's Allowance
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Child Tax Credit and your income is £16,190 or less
- Universal Credit if your family earns £408 a month or less from employment
- Working Tax Credit, but only if your family is receiving the 4 week 'run-on'.

You will also be eligible if you are pregnant and under 18, even if you don't receive any benefits.

How do I apply?

Healthy Start vouchers are a means tested benefit. Contact 0345 607 6823 to request an application form or apply online at: www.healthystart.nhs.uk Your midwife, health visitor, doctor or nurse will need to sign your application form before you return it.

Free school meals

What are they?

If you are on a low family income, your child may be entitled to free meals at school. This entitlement is means tested.

Do I qualify?

England: if your child is in reception, year one or year two, they should automatically get free school meals. This is regardless of your income.

England and Wales: your child's school may provide a free midday meal if you receive certain benefits:

- income-based Job Seekers Allowance
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Income Support
- Universal Credit, and are not earning more than £7,400 a year after tax
- Child Tax Credit if you do not get Working Tax Credit, with income of £16,190 or less
- Working Tax Credit 4 week 'run-on'
- the guarantee part of Pension Credit
- support under part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999.

Northern Ireland: your child's school may provide a free midday meal if you receive certain benefits:

- income-based Job Seekers Allowance
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Income Support or Universal Credit
- Child Tax Credit if you do not get Working Tax Credit, with income of £16,190 or less
- Working Tax Credit 4 week "run-on"
- the guarantee part of Pension Credit
- your child has a statement of special educational needs and is designated to require a special diet for example blended food or gluten free
- your child is a boarder at a special school
- support under part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999.

How do I apply?

Contact your local authority or child's school for help applying for free school meals.

Let the school or college know if your child qualifies for free school meals. The school or college may benefit by being able to claim pupil premium to support your child and other children's learning. See section 5: What other support is there at school?

Free school meals in further education

What is it?

Your child may be able to claim free school meals at school or college. This entitlement is means tested.

Do I qualify?

The child needs to be:

- 16-19 years old
- in full time education
- not entitled to means tested benefit of their own.

How do I apply?

Contact your child's school or college to find out how to apply for free school meals.

The school or college may benefit by being able to claim pupil premium to support your child and other children's learning. See section 5: What other support is there at school?

School milk

What is it?

Your child's nursery or school may provide 250ml of milk for each child per day if they take part in this scheme.

Do I qualify?

England: schools may provide subsidised milk to children. If your child gets means tested free school meals, then milk should also be free. Milk may be available to all children under five at schools taking part in this scheme.

Wales: key stage one children should automatically get free school milk. In other schools and colleges, the governing body may decide to provide milk but might charge parents or guardians.

Northern Ireland: the education authority has to provide free school milk for children:

- attending special schools
- in schools where school meals are not provided
- with a medical certificate stating that milk is a necessary part of their diet, for example a child who may need extra milk as a substitute due to a restricted diet.

How do I apply?

Ask if your child's school or nursery takes part in the scheme and how to apply. You can apply for school milk up to two months before your child starts school.

Northern Ireland: contact the education authority in your region.

3: Is there help with school uniform costs?

You may be entitled to support with school uniform costs if you are on a low income.

School uniform subsidy

What is it?

You may be able to get help to buy part of your child's school uniform, school shoes or sports kit. Help and arrangements can vary depending on where you live. This is means tested and may include:

- full support with uniform, non-uniform clothes, shoes and sports kit
- school uniform only
- a one-off grant when the child starts school
- regular grants as the child grows
- vouchers to swap for items of uniform
- free second-hand clothing
- a school shop selling second-hand uniform
- discretionary funding from the school's governing body or parents' association.

Do I qualify?

England and Wales: if you have a low family income you may be able to get help to pay towards school uniform if your child goes to school, a college for further education or sixth form.

Northern Ireland: if you are on a low income and your child goes to primary, post primary or a special school, a grant may be available as part of a clothing allowance scheme. One grant is offered for each child per year.

How do I apply?

England or Wales: contact your child's school or your local council for help applying.

Northern Ireland: contact the education authority in your region for help applying.

4: Can I get help to transport my child to school and back?

You may be entitled to support with getting your child to and from school.

Free school transport

What is it?

Your local authority, or in Northern Ireland the education authority can decide to provide free transport to school if your child qualifies.

If transport is necessary, it should be available:

- free of charge
- for the whole journey
- when there is no safe walking route to school.

The types of transport provided include:

- local authority transport, or education authority transport in Northern Ireland
- hire coaches
- free bus or train passes for use on public transport
- a travelling allowance, for example a cycle allowance
- a car allowance paid to an agreed drop off and pick up point.

Do I qualify?

You may get help if your child is aged 4 to 16 years old and:

- is under eight years old (under 11 in Northern Ireland) and you live more than two miles from school
- is eight years old or over (11 or over in Northern Ireland) and you live more than three miles from school
- has any special needs
- receives free school meals, although this may vary
- you are a disabled parent or guardian
- the school route is only safe when accompanied
- your disability prevents you from accompanying your child to school.

Your health and social care team may be asked to provide extra information to help the local authority or in Northern Ireland the education authority make a decision.

If you don't qualify, your child may be allowed to travel on spare seats on school buses. A charge may be made for this.

How do I apply?

England or Wales: contact your local authority to apply. You can also ask for information about any other schemes that help with travel costs if your child attends sixth form or college.

Northern Ireland: contact your education authority.

5: What other support is there at school?

There are different types of support available at school, depending on the age of your child. They include:

- free childcare places
- pupil premium
- school grants
- financial support for young people continuing in education
- emergency and hardship funds.

Free childcare places

What is it?

If your child is aged three or four you may be eligible for free education or childcare for them as part of an early education government scheme. Places may be in a:

- nursery
- nursery class or reception class in a primary school
- playgroup
- private day nursery
- independent school
- or provided by a childminder in an approved network.

England: if your child is three or four you could get 30 hours of free childcare a week for 38 weeks of the year (school term time). If you use less than 30 hours a week you may be able to spread the hours over 52 weeks.

For more information and to check if you're eligible visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/30-hours-free-childcare>

Wales: if your child is aged three or four you could get up to 30 hours a week free early education or childcare. A minimum of 10 hours must be used for early education and a maximum of 20 hours can be used for childcare.

You will need to check with your local authority how many hours of early education they can provide your child. Any claim could affect other benefits you get.

For more information and to check if you're eligible visit:

<https://gov.wales/childcare-3-and-4-year-olds>.

Northern Ireland: government funded pre-school education is available to every child, but is not compulsory, and you need to apply. It is not regarded as a childcare scheme. Northern Ireland do not offer free childcare hours. The Pre-School Education Programme is funded by the government and parents do not have to pay.

For more information on how to apply visit:

<https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/pre-school-education-places>

Northern Ireland do offer help paying for tax free childcare delivered by 'approved' providers. For more information on how to access this scheme visit:

<https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/help-paying-approved-childcare>

Pupil premium

What is it?

Pupil premium is extra money that schools can apply for. This money is paid as a grant to the school. It can be used to support one child or a whole school. It should directly benefit a child by helping them achieve their best in school.

Schools may decide to use the grants to pay for:

- one-to-one or small group support for children
- employing an extra teaching assistant to work in class
- extra homework clubs for key subjects like maths and English
- starting a school breakfast club to improve attendance
- enrichment activities such as music lessons for children whose families cannot afford this
- school trips and visits
- buying equipment to help children's learning, such as laptops or tablets
- emotional or wellbeing support
- speech and language therapy.

Does my child qualify?

The school will be able to apply for this extra funding to support your child if they:

- receive free school meals
- are in care or have left care
- have a parent in the armed forces
- have a parent who receives an armed forces service pension.

The school may decide to apply for and use pupil premium funds to support your child's emotional wellbeing. They may also apply if your child is a young carer.

How do I apply?

Ask your child's school if your child qualifies. They will tell you what to do to register your child for pupil premium. You can apply once a year, but your child needs to qualify each time.

School grants

What is it?

If you have a low family income you may be entitled to a grant to help your child get involved in other activities offered at school. This is means tested. The amount of money available is likely to be limited.

Grants may be given for:

- activities or items which are not part of the school curriculum
- the cost of items for enrichment activities, such as a musical instrument or football boots
- travel costs to attend an interview for continued education or a job interview.

Do I qualify?

Ask your school if your child qualifies and what help is available.

How do I apply?

Ask your child's school for help applying.

Financial support for young people continuing in education

What is it?

If your child is continuing their education at sixth form, college or university they may be entitled to a range of:

- grants
- bursaries
- discretionary bursaries.

Some of these may be means tested.

Money can be used to help pay for:

- sixth form or college expenses
- tuition
- course fees
- room and board
- travel costs

- books
- anything else students may need money for.

Do I qualify?

Ask your child's sixth form, college or university if they qualify.

Wales: Students in low- income families and in further education can apply for support through Student Finance Wales. For more information visit:

<https://www.studentfinancewales.co.uk/>

Northern Ireland: students may be eligible for various types of support grants.

For more information visit:

<https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/further-education>

How do I apply?

Your child's sixth form, college or university can tell you what type of financial support they offer and how to apply. They can also give you details of how this is paid.

Emergencies and hardship funds

What is it?

Your child's school, college or university may have a separate hardship fund. You may be able to get extra help if circumstances change, or your child has an emergency. This is means tested.

Some charities give grants to parents to help with the costs of education. Grants may be available to help with school items, school uniform or school trips. You may need to meet certain criteria to qualify for a grant. If the grant is discretionary, the amount of money may be limited.

Do I qualify?

Ask your local authority, in Northern Ireland your local health and social care trust or your social worker to find out if you qualify. They can tell you about other grants that may be available.

How do I apply?

You can apply for any grant if you think you may qualify. Apply early in the academic year if possible. If you have been unsuccessful before you can reapply if your circumstances change.

6: What other benefits can I claim?

There are also certain benefits that you may be entitled to if you are responsible for a child or children.

Child Benefit

What is it?

Child Benefit is a payment to help with the cost of caring for a child. You can claim Child Benefit for every child you are responsible for. You do not have to be the child's parent to claim.

Do I qualify?

You can claim for each child:

- under 16 years old
- under 20 years old if they are in approved full time education or training.

Payments will stop on 31 August on or after your child's 16th birthday if your child:

- starts paid work of more than 24 hours a week
- leaves approved full time education or training
- starts an apprenticeship.

How do I apply?

To claim Child Benefit, complete form CH2 online or download and print it off to send to the Child Benefit Office. Search for Child benefit at: www.gov.uk or contact HMRC:

Telephone: 0300 200 3100

Textphone: 0300 200 3103

Child Tax Credit

What is it?

Child Tax Credit is a payment to help people on a low income with the cost of bringing up children. This is a means tested benefit, however Child Tax Credit doesn't affect your Child Benefit.

Do I qualify?

You need to be over 16 years of age to apply and have either:

- a child under 16 years old
- a child under 20 years old and in full time education or training.

The amount you get also depends on:

- your income
- if your child has a disability
- the number of children you have living with you.

When you apply for Child Tax Credit, you will be told if you qualify for Working Tax Credit too. You can't claim Child Tax Credit if you receive Universal Credit.

How do I apply?

To find out if you can claim Child Tax Credit, search for Child Tax Credit at: www.gov.uk or contact the Tax Credit Office for a claim form:

Telephone: 0345 300 3900

Textphone: 0345 300 3909

For details about Universal Credit and Working Tax Credit, see: Information sheet 10A – Benefits and entitlements

Guardian's Allowance

What is it?

Guardian's Allowance is paid to a person bringing up a child who is not theirs. This includes children who are related to the person or adopted children. It is tax free and paid for each child on top of child benefit.

Do I qualify?

You can claim Guardian's Allowance if:

- both of the child's parents have died (unless one parent has died and the second is missing or in prison)
- you already claim Child Benefit for the child
- one of the child's parents was born in the UK (or lived in the UK since they were 16 for 52 weeks in a two year period).

How do I apply?

Search for Guardian's Allowance at: www.gov.uk to download a claim form or contact:

Telephone: 0300 200 3101
0300 200 1900 Welsh language
Textphone: 0300 200 3103

7: How can I find out more?

Organisations that could help

Your local family or children's information service can give advice about any other local support or services that may help. Contact your local authority or in Northern Ireland your health and social care trust for details. Local services may include:

- childcare providers
- holiday schemes
- local activities or events for children and families
- adult social care services for support for disabled parents.

Useful organisations
