

The MND Association's policy statement on boxing

As a neurological charity, the known link between head injury, brain damage and dementia means the MND Association will not allow its name or material to be used in association with sports in which blows to the head by another competitor are one of the intentions of the sport, such as boxing.

For the same reason, we prefer not to accept donations resulting from boxing or similar sports.

January 2021