

David Genetic testing

David

The day of my diagnosis that got mentioned, So like, because it were like a bit of a whirlwind I were like concentrating, but I weren't. But I understood what you were talking about and what genetic testing that's already been done.

I'm waiting for the results on that. But they did point out the importance of it, which I were like. I were like, yeah, yeah, I get that. Cause having family myself, it's important for them to know.

It's either going to let me know, let everybody know if it is being passed on genetically or it's sporadic, which were important to me as well, because I, if I'm being honest, I'd like to know if it is and what member of my family was it from, where it, it may be linked to. But most importantly for future generations as well.
